Parent Governor

I am a father of three children who are attending Beaconsfield Primary School and working as a Security Officer at Heathrow airport. I think Beaconsfield Primary school is an excellent school delivering high quality learning opportunities. I understand how important is early years of learning to children's later academic achievements and social and other life skills.

Obviously, teachers and school staff are at the front line of this important work, but Governing Body works in the background to support staff as they implement government policies in circumstances where stretching resources is often a challenge. To some extent, Governing Body also holds the school leadership team to account as they make strategic decisions about the direction of the school. Based on above mentioned understanding I feel passionately about primary education and its importance. I would work with energy and enthusiasm to help Beaconsfield Primary school maintain its high standard and meet future challenges. I would be privileged to represent parents in this way.
